NURSE KILLED DOCTOR

AND HERSELF, IS BELIEF

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Jan. 4.—W. F. Dickinson, forty-five years old, an undertaker and for a number of years corner of Woodbury county, and Miss Anna Giddings, nurse, were found dead in Dickinson's motorcar at 8 o'clock yesterday morning near the city limits.

Dickinson had been shot through the left temple and the woman through the right temple. It is believed the woman shot Dickinson and then turned the weapon on herself. A revolver was still clasped in her hand when the bodies were discovered by a farmer.

Dickinson, who was a Mason of high degree, is said to have been paying attention to the nurse for about two years, despite the fact that he had a wife and nearly grown children. Miss Giddings, about thirty years old, was a nurse at Samaritan Hospital.

LIQUOR CARGO OF BOAT TAKEN AWAY BY AUTO

Revenue Agents Learn Trucks Removed Large Consignment of Wet Goods.

Revenue agents of the Washington-Baltimore district have been provided with vague descriptions of a motor truck fleet whose operations two nights before the final eve of the dying year shocked residents of the Patuxent River country in Calvert county, Southern Maryland.

Despite the moonlight night rum runners openly paraded their trucks and passenger cars up to a not so secluded wharf where the precious cargo of a motor boat was transferred after subdued bickering which appeared to two witnesses as unhurried and as open as a deal in an open wholesale market.

Reported by Officers.

An officer on a steamboat plying between Baltimore and Patuxent River points, living at Holland Point, and his son-in-law, a prominent Baltimore physician, have reported the disclosure of the open air "receiving point" where individual runners apparently better with the freedom which once accompanied the old time methods of wholesale liquor dealers.

The steamboat officer and the physician declare they were awakened the other night by a commotion near their house. They looked out of their window and saw more than a half dozen large motor trucks and several smaller automobiles.

Witnesses Shocked.

The witnesses were shocked at the apparent ease with which the entire operation was completed. They declared the actions of the motor boat crew and the drivers of the machines were so regular and without haste that it seemed clear they cared no interruption by Government agents.

The only indication that those implicated in the midnight activities were making slight pretense to shroud their identity was contained in the fact that neither the boats nor the automobiles were showing lights. The moonlight, though not revealing their personal appearance, readily disclosed their actions.

Agents are endeavoring to trace arrivals of captured liquor to the Patuxent River point, in the hope of frustrating further attempts to land smuggled liquor for distribution in its territory.

THIEF ATTACKS WOMAN; SPURNS HER $500 OFFER

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Spurning an offer of $500 if he would leave her unharmed, an unidentified negro last night attacked Mrs. Frank Link, aged thirty-seven, within a few blocks of her home in Wilkinsburg.

Mrs. Link, who lay in a dazed condition at the scene of the attack for several half an hour after her assailant fled, was found by a passerby.

The attack took place at a lonely spot surrounded by billboards. Mrs. Link said in her home, several hours later. She was accosted by the man, who threatened her with death if she made an outcry, at the same time pointing a revolver at her.

She offered him her purse, which he refused, as was also an offer to procure $500 for him if he would not molest her, according to Mrs. Link.

MATINEE TOMORROW

By error in an advertisement yesterday, matinee performances of "The Bat" the record-breaking play of the theatrical season, now appearing at Poli's Theater, were advertised as being given on Wednesday and Saturday.

Matinees at Poli's this week will be as usual, Thursday, at 2:15, and Saturday at 2:15, with the evening performance starting at 8:15 p. m.

Owing to the extreme popularity of this most unusual play, the management has found it necessary to extend the engagement of "The Bat" for another week, beginning next Sunday night. In this way it is hoped to accommodate those who were unable to secure seats this week.

DRAFT RECORDS HELD INVOLATE IN APPEAL CASE

Contempt Decision on General Harris for Refusing Affidavit Upset.

The decision of Justice Siddons, of the District Supreme Court, holding Adjutant General Peter C. Harris, of the United States army, in contempt of court for failure to produce an affidavit made by Mrs. Mary Walsh before a notary public for the purpose of taking a deposition for a divorce proceeding begun by her husband in the Ohio courts, was reversed yesterday by the Court of Appeals, which held that the records of the selective service draft now in charge of General Harris are to remain forever secret and need not be produced in court.

Justice Siddons ordered General Harris on two occasions to produce the affidavit which caused Walsh to be transferred from class I to class B and his final induction into the military service. After his discharge from the army, Walsh sued for divorce.

He asked the court to require General Harris to produce an affidavit made by his wife that statements she made in connection with her divorce proceedings regarding the support he gave her, differed materially from those contained in the affidavit. Walsh contended therefore that the alleged variance in her statements should be brought to the attention of the trial judge in the divorce proceedings.

General Harris refused to produce the affidavit and was adjudged in contempt of court and sentenced to serve ten days in jail. The War Department appealed and the Appellate Court today holds that the same secrecy which originally surrounded the draft records and the identity of persons and affidavits and their contents still holds, as the selective service law placed no limit upon the time these records were to be withheld from the general public.
